ARRIVAL DAY

THE LAND OF ICE AND FIRE

When arriving at the airport the group is greeted by local guides that will take care of them for the days they are staying in the land of ice and fire.

Our first stop is in 30 min by the hiking trail to the Fagradalsfjall eruption location or lava location. The eruption started on the 19th of March 2021 and has provided awe-inspiring experiences so far, but it looks like it is slowly burning out. The brand new lava and exploring the power of mother nature is always a moment to remember.

We can add to the adventure by tasting a volcano cocktail along the way.

When we continue on our way it is only about a 90 min drive to the hotel where we will check-in and freshen up.

The hotel is located in the countryside and we will enjoy the location and have dinner at the hotel

CHILLY BOTTLE

OPTIONAL

The Icelandic water is extremely pure, filtered through lava fields and glaciers for thousands of years. In an effort to take care of our environment we do recommend having multi-use bottles when traveling in Iceland. We can provide bottles, they can be marked with a company logo or whatever branding is preferred.

Our guide will as well talk about the water and get guests interested in using the bottles

A PRIVATE DRINK

OPTIONAL

When arriving close to the lava, why not have a private drink to start the adventure in the land of ice and fire.

We can have a private bartender either make a bespoke cocktail for us or serve up a special Eruption drink. This service can be tailor-made to the needs of each group.

Addons can be a recipe with Icelandic liquor and the guest can have a welcome gift including that special Icelandic ingredient.

The drink can be adjusted to the company color

As this is Iceland we can offer a tent if the group needs to have an option to go inside.

Hotel Geysir*

The hotel was designed to harmoniously blend the building with the surrounding environment through the use of materials that reflect the surroundings and the architectural design of the building. The hotel's rooms and suites are bright and light and all have views of the stunning scenery.

There are large windows throughout the hotel so you can admire the landscape including the magnificent Geysir and hot spring area while passing through. The dining rooms are on the first and second floor and can open up into the hotel's garden.

The area is famous for the geothermal hot springs and geysers which the hotel is in perfect close proximity to and can be seen in awe during the day and night. If you are lucky enough, at night you will witness the bubbling hot springs contrasting with the Northern Lights (September to March).

Geysir Restaurant

DINNER

Geysir Restaurant was designed to reflect nature through the choice of materials blending into the nearest surroundings.
